

A view of the county development centre on local and regional cooperation

Katrin Puusepp

Järvamaa Arenduskeskus

Lahendused läbi teadmiste, kogemuste ja oskuste

Prerequisites for good cooperation

The Association of Municipalities in Estonia, the county government and the county development centre are the initiators and coordinators of ideas/activities in the county

- Need for cooperation
- Location
- Good interpersonal relationships
- The development centre – a neutral interventionist

Working cooperation

Fields of activity:

- County information portal www.jarva.ee
- Tourism – creation of a job of a development consultant

Joint institutions:

- A development centre;
- A youth information and counselling centre;
- A public transportation centre;
- A landfill and waste management centre;

• A hospital.

Rüütli 27, Põlde, 72713
tel 585 1263

e-kiri: arenduskeskus@jarvamv.ee

www.jarva.ee/jak

Joint projects

- County street lighting project;
- Mapping of sites for the Local Government Investment Support Plan (KOIT) for 2007-2010;
- Järva County Development Agreement;
- Analysis of the development plans of local governments;
- County joint “Soft” development projects;
- Organisation of a business week.

Rüütli 4, Paide, 72713

tel 385 2365

e-kiri: arenduskeskus@jarvamv.ee

www.jarva.ee/jak

Cooperation today and in the future

Working cooperation today:

- An association of local governments in the county;
- The county government;
- A youth information and counselling centre;
- A local office of the Employment Office;
- With 12 local governments;
- Kodukant Järvamaa.

Cooperation in the future – the Estonian Agricultural Registers and Information Board, the Environmental Investment Centre, Leader groups, tourist information centres

Budget of the Development Centre 2008

